

Name _____

Communication Review

 Most answers can be found within your notes or by applying what you have learned.

Mary says to Elizabeth, "I really like your new necklace."

1. Who is the sender in the statement above? _____

2. Who is the receiver? _____

3. What is the message? _____

Elizabeth writes a note to Mary in English class that says "Thanks, I got it this weekend."

4. What is the channel of communication? _____

Mrs. Smith takes up the note from Elizabeth and tosses it into the trash.

5. Would this statement be considered a noise or a barrier? _____

6. Explain why _____

7. Would it be considered internal or external? _____

Give an example (not the definition) of EACH of the following:

8. Internal Noise : _____

9. External Noise: _____

10. Internal Barrier: _____

11. External Barrier: _____

12. Why is feedback important to the communication process? _____

13. Give an example of a gesture or facial expression that is symbolic and what it means. (Example: Thumb's Up means "good") Note: Keep it appropriate.

14. Explain how communication is irreversible with an example

15. Give an example of intrapersonal communication

16. Give an example of interpersonal communication.

17. Give an example of small group communication.

18. Give an example of one-to-group communication.

19. List four different channels of mass communication.

20. What are the characteristics of an ethical communicator?

21. How well do you meet the criteria of being ethical in communication? What areas do you need to work on?

22. What are the characteristics of a responsible communicator?

23. How well do you meet the criteria of being responsible in communication? What areas do you need to work on?

24. Would your friends, family and teachers consider you to be accessible when it comes to communication? Why or why not?
